

THIRD STARTS.

Guardsmen Go to Camp Six and Seventy-one Strong—First Visit Since 1893.

lyn's pot regiment, the Twenty-third, started for the State camp at Peekskill yesterday morning. The advance guard, strong left the armory, at the corner of Bedford and Atlantic avenues, at 8:30 o'clock. At 11:45 o'clock the bugles sounded the assembly in the big drill room. It was to be the Twenty-third's first visit to the State camp since the summer of 1893, and 671 officers and enlisted men answered the roll-call. The regimental strength is 702, and the showing was the best made this year by any regiment in the Second Brigade.

The men wore the neat fatigue uniforms, with brown leggings and soft campaign hats. They marched down Bedford avenue to the Franklin avenue station of the Kings County "L" road. There they boarded a train and were taken to the bridge. They crossed the bridge in the cars, and went up to the Grand Central Depot in Third avenue cable cars.

Colonel Alexis C. Smith was in command. With him were the following officers of the line and staff: Lieutenant-Colonel Ezra De Forest, Major D. K. Eastman, Major J. C. Thom, Adjutant George A. Wingate, Battalion Adjutant S. C. Merle, Quartermaster G. E. Hall, Battalion Quartermaster Blacker and Bangs and Frederick Horsey, Inspector of Rifle Practice George W. Coulton, Assistant Inspector H. Hoag, Surgeon William B. Spencer, Assistant Surgeons H. L. Cochran and C. D. Napier, Chaplain Lindsay Parker, Captain L. J. Fraeger, Second Lieutenant DeM. C. W. Fraeger, Captain Frederick A. Wells, First Lieutenant J. D. A. Onderdonk, Second Lieutenant J. P. Pope, Captain Arnold, Captain Robert E. Whitner, First Lieutenant A. S. Orchard, Second Lieutenant W. S. Bayer, Captain Frederick A. Williams, First Lieutenant J. T. Hull, Second Lieutenant George H. Taylor, Captain C. P. Hamilton, Second Lieutenant A. T. Morrow, Captain W. A. Stokes, First Lieutenant F. C. Demingston, Second Lieutenant J. E. Hamilton, Second Lieutenant J. E. Hamilton, Second Lieutenant F. L. Perry, Captain C. S. Todd, First Lieutenant E. H. Barnum, Second Lieutenant W. C. Todd.

The men carried the new Meridian pack for the first time yesterday, and some of the pack men were seen that today, which are similar to those worn by regular army officers.

THE STORY OF A FORTUNE.

Thieves Heard of Klebsch's $15,000 Inheritance and Ripped Up Carpets to Look for It.

Charles W. Klebsch, of No. 7 Spencer court, Brooklyn, recently inherited considerable money left by a wealthy relative. Some of his neighbors say it was $5,000; others $15,000. Mr. Klebsch says nothing.

Mrs. Klebsch and her little girl went to O'Neys Island Friday, and during her absence a sneak thief entered the house. He turned up the top of the bed, and found a box of jewelry. He took it and ran. The police heard of the report and went to the house last night. They learned that a watch and some other trinkets had been taken. The thief was caught and arrested.

One neighbor went in to sympathize with Mrs. Klebsch, but the latter said she had taken her entire fortune down to O'Neys Island. The neighbor came out and announced that Mrs. Klebsch had luckily taken the $15,000 with her when she went to O'Neys Island.

The police heard of the report and went to the house last night. They learned that a watch and some other trinkets had been taken. The thief was caught and arrested.

Trustee Ingalls will now appoint two trustees in the places of Vail and Ingalls, and at once begin to reorganize the school. Ex-District Attorney Fitzgerald represented the two trustees, and W. Alaire Shortt looked after the interest of the taxpayers.

The State Superintendent's decision is a great victory for School Commissioner Mrs. Julia K. West, who has done more to elevate the schools of Staten Island than any other person. The order of the State Superintendent removing Vail and Janneman, as follows:

Whenever I find in the action of school district authorities a disposition to ignore any portion of the Board and to conduct the business of the district in a high-handed manner, designed to carry out their personal wishes regardless of the legal and reasonable rights of the remaining members of the Board and of the teachers employed, and thereby seriously injuring the schools under their charge, which injury must continue if their policy is continued, it becomes my duty, if satisfied by the evidence presented, that such a course is wilful and in violation of any of the provisions of the school law, to remove such district officers from office.

"I am convinced, after a very patient and careful examination of the evidence presented herein, that it is my duty to grant relief demanded in the petition.

"The petition herein is sustained.

"It having been proved to my satisfaction that said Charles M. Vail and George H. Janneman, as Trustees of Port Richmond Union Free School District No. 6, of Port Richmond, S. I., Richmond County, have been and each of them has been guilty of wilful violation and neglect of duty as such Trustees under the Consolidated School law of 1894.

"I do order that Charles M. Vail and George H. Janneman be, and each of them be, hereby removed from office as Trustees and Trustees of said Port Richmond Union Free School District No. 6, of Port Richmond, S. I., Richmond County.

"The decision must be filed with the clerk of said Board of Education of said Port Richmond Union Free School District No. 6, of Port Richmond, Staten Island, Richmond County, and notice thereof be by him given to the appellants and respondents, and that a copy of said decision and order be served upon said Charles M. Vail and George H. Janneman respectively, with opportunity to examine the same.

"In witness whereof, I, Charles R. Skinner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State of New York, do hereunto set my hand and the seal of the Department of Public Instruction of the City of Albany, the 8th day of July, 1896.

"CHARLES R. SKINNER.

"State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Bought One, Stole a Dozen.

Riverhead, L. I., July 11.—Justice Stockpole in this village last evening committed John Ryan, a Polish farmer, to the County Jail for three months and fined him $70. The 28-year-old Ryan was charged with stealing a dozen eggs from a neighbor's hen house. It is alleged that whenever he bought one bag of fertilizer he stole a dozen.

OKLAHOMA DIVORCES NOT GOOD IN JERSEY.

Ex-Governor Flower's Confidential Clerk in the Toils of Hackensack Law.

Got a Decree in the West Which the Court of His Home Will Not Recognize.

MUST SUPPORT HIS DIVORCED WIFE.

Convicted of Being a Disorderly Person After a Most Comic Trial, in Which the Gravest Laughed Loudest.

Hackensack, N. J., July 11.—The audience in Justice Thomas H. Campbell's court today was composed of deacons and elders who had congregated to testify to the good character of a woman. They laughed loud and long as Justice and lawyers furnished them with occasion, and altogether had a happier time than has been theirs since they were boys.

Postmaster Harrison was prosecuting ex-Governor Roswell P. Flower's former confidential clerk, Alston L. Marsh, for non-support of his wife. Marsh went to Oklahoma last Spring and secured a divorce on the ground that his wife, who was the Postmaster's daughter, did not provide him with proper food, neglected him and treated him cruelly. Failing to support his wife constituted a man a disorderly person in New Jersey. On that charge Marsh was arrested as soon as he returned to Hackensack.

Lawyer Ernest Koster, who represented him, introduced a certified copy of the Oklahoma decree in evidence. Lawyer A. D. Campbell laughed at it, made the Justice laugh and upset the dignity of every one. Lawyer Koster was indignant.

"Don't make fun of this paper," he shouted. "You might want to get yourself some day."

The deacons and elders laughed as they had a good laugh before and the Justice was hysterical to the verge of tears. When he recovered he weakly pounded for order and Lawyer Koster insisted that the Constitution of the United States and all precedents in the several States made it legal to recognize a divorce.

The Justice declared the documents not good in his court.

Lawyer Koster said this was the first time the seal of another State had not been accepted in New Jersey.

The Justice declared the man must pay his wife $5 per week alimony. Marsh said he would have to go to jail until it is paid.

CLUBMAN KENNEDY BETTER.

Physician Says He Will Recover from Injuries Received Friday.

Hempstead, L. I., July 11.—Dr. C. G. T. Finn, who last evening was summoned to attend H. Van Rensselaer Kennedy, a well-known club and society man, who was injured while playing a practice game of polo on the grounds of the Meadowbrook Club, stated this evening that the condition of Mr. Kennedy had changed very much for the better to-day, and that he would recover without a doubt.

Mr. Kennedy, whose city residence is at No. 60 Fifth avenue, is a member of the Rockaway, Metropolitan, Knickerbocker, Westchester Country, and other clubs.

Quills Run to Manassas.

To-day the Quill Club Wheelmen will have some distinguished guests with them on their run to Manassas, N. J., where the party will take dinner with "Pop" Zimmerman. The visitors are: George D. Giddens, of the L. A. W. Racing Board; H. W. Robinson, of Boston; and A. D. Walt, of Cohoes, also Mr. and Mrs. George D. Giddens, of Philadelphia, ex-treasurer of the L. A. W.; Handicapper Charles G. Percival, of Boston.

Chased Through Halls and Alleys.

Newark, N. J., July 11.—Charles Young, who has been wanted for a month on a charge of embezzlement, preferred by Christian E. John, of No. 18 Eleventh avenue and Twelfth street, was caught last night after a long chase through hallways, alleys and side streets.

Remained in His Hand Eight Years.

Port Jefferson, L. I., July 11.—Eight years ago Isiah Lincoln, of this place, while at work at a forge, had a piece of iron stuck in his hand. The steel did not cause him any trouble, and he allowed it to remain. He had it removed to-day and the hand is healing.

NOT LIKE THE OLD TIMES.

Boy May Stay Out Until 10 o'Clock and Not Be Wayward, Says Justice Lemon.

James Bodie, of No. 283 Wythe avenue, Williamsburg, had his eighteen-year-old son, Henry, before Justice Lemon, in the Lee Avenue Police Court, yesterday, on a charge of being wayward.

The elder Bodie is more than sixty years old. "I have always made it a rule since I have had a family," said Bodie, "to have them in the house at 9 o'clock at night, but this boy remains out past the hour."

Justice Lemon told Bodie the present time was different from that of his youth. "May be," said the Magistrate, "you were brought up on a farm and went to bed at 9 o'clock in the afternoon. This boy is eighteen years old, and don't go back on him because he is not in the house promptly at 9 o'clock. Give him until 10 o'clock, and you will find out that my advice is good."

Justice Lemon then dismissed the case, and Bodie, with his son left the court.

NO REDUCTION FOR HIM.

Trustees of a Greenpoint Church Wanted to Cut the Pastor's Salary and He Resigned.

The Rev. J. E. Everingham has resigned the pastorage of the Church of the Evangel, in Greenpoint, because the trustees wanted to reduce his salary from $1,200 to $1,000.

There was a stormy meeting a week ago, and when the decision of the trustees was announced, the pastor jumped to his feet and at once tendered his resignation.

It is claimed by the friends of the pastor that the proposed reduction was sprung upon him without warning. This is denied by both the trustees and their supporters, who claim that Pastor Everingham was notified by a committee prior to his meeting. Since tendering his resignation, Mr. Everingham has left the city.

DID SCHROEDER ELOPE?

His Wife Believes He Has Gone Off with an Attractive Widow.

Mrs. Caroline Schroeder, an attractive young woman living at No. 170 Floyd street, Williamsburg, yesterday asked Justice Lemon, in the Lee Avenue Police Court, for a warrant for the arrest of her husband, John Schroeder, whom she charged with abandonment. Schroeder is a journeyman brewer and has been missing since Thursday last.

The wife says she believes her husband has eloped with a young widow who formerly lived in Whipple street. "I was married two years ago," said Mrs. Schroeder, "and we lived happily until last year, when my husband began to make love to my fifteen-year-old sister, who came from Germany. He said he loved her even better than he loved me, and he even threatened to get the girl to elope with him and made both our lives so unhappy that my sister returned to Germany last April to rid herself of his love making."

Mrs. Schroeder said after her sister's departure her husband seemed greatly grieved for several days. Then he came back and says, he became acquainted with the widow with whom she believes he eloped, and spent much of his time in her company. She tried to break off the friendship, but failed.

On Thursday Mrs. Schroeder left her home alone. When she returned her husband was gone. She has since referred the woman to the Charities Commissioner.

WANT HALF THE FEE BACK.

Sag Harbor and Greenport Saloon Keepers After the County Treasurer.

Riverhead, L. I., July 11.—County Treasurer A. M. Darling, of Suffolk County, was to-day served with an order by sixteen liquor dealers of the incorporated villages of Sag Harbor and Greenport directing him to return to them $100 each, which they had paid on account of licenses. Under the law the license is $100 per year in villages where the population is below 1,200, and $200 in those where it is over 1,200.

The saloon keepers, through their counsel, state that the larger amount was paid by mistake. They claim that there is no separate enumeration of Greenport or Sag Harbor which shows there are more than 1,200 inhabitants in either village, and they hold that a Supreme Court decree referred to where it is not specially stated that there are over 1,200 inhabitants a license must be issued for $100 until such enumeration is made.

The County Treasurer is going to seek legal advice in the matter, and will hold the money for the present.

RAPP BITTEN BY A PYTHON.

Newark Justice Feeding a Pet Snake When It Turned on Him.

Newark, N. J., July 11.—Justice of the Peace Rapp was bitten last evening on the forefinger of the right hand by a three-foot python, of which he is the owner.

He was feeding the snake and was patting it when the reptile suddenly turned on him. The bite is not a serious one, but to-day it is causing the Justice considerable pain.

Flynn Flourished a Pistol.

Newark, N. J., July 11.—Thomas Flynn entered a saloon on Ferry street early this morning and threatened to kill several men who were in the place. He flourished a loaded revolver. Policemen Koerber, Lewis and Tracy caught the fellow after a chase along three or four blocks. Flynn said he came from Los Angeles, Cal. He was recognized as a prisoner who escaped from jail here a year ago and who was recaptured after a struggle. Flynn was sent to jail for two weeks.
